1. Purpose
This policy outlines authority and responsibilities of university administrative personnel with regard to executing and reviewing contracts.

2. Policy
The Board of Visitors has designated M. Dwight Shelton as the university's Chief Contracting Officer for as long as he holds the position of Vice President for Finance and Chief Financial Officer. As such, he is authorized by the Board of Visitors to sign contracts and agreements on behalf of Virginia Tech and to delegate signature authority. Any requests for consideration of further delegation of contract signature authority should be submitted directly to the university’s Contract Review Officer.

As contracts may originate from a vendor or from a department within the university, this policy establishes the guidelines for entering into a contract on behalf of the university. All contracts, including but not limited to memoranda of understanding/agreement, collaboration agreements, and affiliation agreements, must be reviewed by Legal Counsel before they are signed.

ONLY THOSE POSITIONS OUTLINED IN THIS POLICY ARE AUTHORIZED TO SIGN UNIVERSITY CONTRACTS. NO OTHER EMPLOYEES ARE AUTHORIZED TO COMMIT THE UNIVERSITY.

3. Procedures

3.4 Departmental Responsibilities

It is the responsibility of the department generating the contract to ensure that the commitment of all resources (funding, personnel, facilities and space) is met. If resources are not available to the generating department, the person responsible for generating the contract must ensure through the appropriate level (dean or vice president) that resources will be made available.

The generating department must send all contracts, other than those related to competitive solicitation or sole source, to University Legal Counsel for review of legal sufficiency before signing. In addition, all software license agreements must also be sent to Information Technology Acquisitions (Computing Purchasing) along with a copy of the corresponding purchase order.

The generating department maintains the signed original university document record, according to the University and State Records Retention Schedules, of all contracts that are not processed through Procurement or Computing Purchasing. Each department that signs contracts should maintain a log documenting vendor, type of contract, period of contract, amount, signatory, and date signed.
3.5 Procurement Department Responsibilities
The Procurement Department is the primary repository for contracts, agreements, riders, and related legal documents as a result of a competitive solicitation or sole source process when goods and services are obtained in accordance with established university procurement policies and procedures and the Commonwealth of Virginia Purchasing Manual for Institutions of Higher Education and Their Vendors. Purchasing logs the contract, assigns a contract number, reviews the contract for completeness, contacts the department if there are questions, and forwards contracts when deemed necessary to University Legal Counsel for review. Procurement maintains the signed original university document of record of all contracts that are processed through the Procurement Department.

3.6 Information Technology Acquisitions Department Responsibilities
The Information Technology Acquisitions (ITA) Department is the point of contact for all contracts related to computer hardware and software. Contracts arising from the ITA Department have been established in accordance with the Virginia Tech Procurement Department policies and procedures and the Commonwealth of Virginia Purchasing Manual for Institutions of Higher Education and Their Vendors. The ITA Department reviews, obtains Legal Counsel review, and signs all contracts – whether or not money is involved – for computer hardware, software, testing, and maintenance. The ITA Department maintains the signed original university document of record for all contracts that are processed through their office.

3.7 University Legal Counsel Responsibilities
University contracts, including collaboration agreements and MOUs/MOAs, must be sent to University Legal Counsel for review before obtaining signatures to enter into a contractual arrangement. University Legal Counsel reviews all contracts for legal content and sufficiency in accordance with Virginia law. University Legal Counsel is the final authority on interpretation of the law.

Contracts reviewed by University Legal Counsel are entered in a log. The log serves as a central point of contract information to trace the originating department in case a question comes to University Legal Counsel.

University Legal Counsel will return contracts to the originating department. All necessary deletions, insertions, or changes to the contractual terms and conditions in compliance with Virginia law or university policy will be noted by University Legal Counsel in a memorandum and returned to the originating department. The originating department is required to make the changes to the contract in accordance with University Legal Counsel's instructions.

3.8 University Contract Review Officer
The President’s Chief of Staff is authorized by the Board of Visitors to serve as the university’s Contract Review Officer. Once reviewed and approved by University Legal Counsel, all contracts requiring the President’s or Chief Contracting Officer’s signature should be forwarded, with Legal Counsel’s approval memo attached, to the Contract Review Officer. Requests for additional delegation of authority or changes to the contract signature policy are coordinated through the Contract Review Officer.

3.9 Contract Language and Review Procedures
All contracts should read as follows:
1. The university is referred to in all contracts as Virginia Polytechnic Institute and State University, not as Virginia Tech.
2. Wording changes, deletions, and insertions must be made on the original contract and to all copies of the contract. In the Commonwealth of Virginia, copies of the original contract are equally as binding as the original.
3. Deletions should be made by striking the text. Do not remove or use "white-out" for deletions.
4. Under Virginia law, there are certain terms found in many contracts that must be stricken (deleted) from the contract. These include:
   a) Choice of Law provision: the contract is subject to the laws of the Commonwealth of Virginia, not to those of other states.
   b) Binding arbitration references.
   c) Union hiring, representation (and personnel) provisions; Virginia is a Right-to-Work state.
   d) Extreme or unusual request by the performers or suppliers.
   e) Indemnification clauses, indicating that the university or its agents are responsible if (something) occurs.
5. The university, within the terms of the contract, may be "hereinafter called" Agency, Sponsor, Purchaser, etc. It is recommended that the university be referred to as PURCHASER in contractual documents. The term EMPLOYER should not be used. The name designating the university should not vary within a contract and should be consistent from page to page and at the signature line.
6. The address on the contract for the university should be the address and telephone number of the originating department.
7. Every change, insertion, and deletion to the contract and all copies must be initialed by the person responsible for signing the contract. A short horizontal line should be drawn in the margin beside each change, insertion and deletion and initialed by the signer.
8. The generating department is responsible for maintaining a signed original contract for all contracts not going through Procurement or the Information Technology Acquisitions departments as the university's record of the agreement. The signed contracts must be retained for a period of six years after the end of the contract period.

4. Definitions

Contract: Any document that establishes an agreement between two parties. For example, contracts include memoranda of understanding, memoranda of agreement, licenses, and collaboration agreements.

Rider: A contract rider is a fully binding legal document that may be attached to a contract. Riders arise from the vendor, or the university may use a standard rider. Departments may work with Legal Counsel in developing a rider. All riders should be attached and in appropriate form at the time the contract is submitted to Legal Counsel for review.

Standard Contract: A standard contract is a simple, routine contract generated by a department of the university for regular and routine use. A draft standard contract must be submitted to Legal Counsel for review and approval for legal sufficiency and content before it is recognized as a valid instrument. Once a standard contract is established, it is not necessary for Legal Counsel to review each individual contract, regardless of amount. Examples of a standard contract include: Virginia Tech Union rider, Procurement Department, and construction contracts.
